- Blackboard is committed to supporting assistive technologies. Screen readers and other devices that make Internet applications more accessible to those with disabilities are fully supported by Blackboard.
- Configurations marked with a check are fully tested and supported.
- Configurations marked N/A are not supported by the operating system or by the Web browser. These configurations are not tested.
- Configurations that are marked with a C are compatible with the Blackboard Academic Suite. These configurations should function properly but are not fully supported.
- Older versions of operating systems and Web browsers are not tested but should work properly. These configurations are considered compatible.
- Note: The Safari Web browser does not currently support the Live Connect technology required to use the Equation Editor in the Blackboard Learning System.
